

Four and Counting

Based on polls from global and regional institutional investors, over the last four years, EFG Hermes has won more no. 1 categories in Euromoney's Middle East Research Survey than any other provider, making EFG Hermes the most successful research house for the last four years in the survey. The independent EFG Hermes research division offers investors first-class coverage of the MENA markets. Our highly competent and experienced on-site team of analysts provides global standard research with local insight and thereby offers unparalleled research support for successful investments.
